PERSONAL AND CONFIDENTIAL

Dear Tom:

Thank you for the information concerning Barry Charles Fringle. This information will be very helpful to us in placing Mr. Fringle on the Confidential File and refusing registration in the future. The confidential record sheet is also very complete and this is helpful to us in identifying him should he move to another section of the country.

When the sentencing is made public it would be helpful to have a copy of the sentencing for future reference purposes. This will enable us to partially keep track of him since he no doubt will be on probation for a period of time in addition to any retention in an institution.

Thanks again for your help in giving us the complete information.

Sincerely,

Grant-fund C. Udager sentenced on alcohol-driving charge

Grant money — leftover and overrun — was among the items discussed by the St. Maries city council at its meeting Nov. 9.

Uses for the grant money leftover from a recent sewer line replacement project are being studied by city crew supervisor Phil Brown and Larry Comer of V. David Welch Engineering. Comer has been the engineer on the sewer line project that replaced and installed sewer lines in portions of Parker's addition and Old Government Townsite area this summer and fall.

The federal Department of Housing and Urban development offered the city $200,900 in grant money for the project. Because construction bids came in lower than expected, and because of cost-saving measures during the project, there is money left over which the city can use, with certain restrictions.

Concerning another grant-funded project, a cost overrun of $15,000 is expected on the design work for the pumping and piping for the city's two Riverdale wells, and $18,000 for engineering during construction.

Jim Correll, engineer with H2M Hill of Spokane, said the overrun is the result of all the Carl Udager was sentenced to five years in the state penitentiary Friday after pleading guilty to a felony charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol.

District Judge Watt Prather suspended the sentence and has placed Udager on two years of supervised probation. For the first year, he is permitted to drive to work and back only. All other driving is forbidden him. He has been ordered to repay Benewah County $500 for his prosecution, must not violate any laws, must participate in whatever alcohol counselling or abuse program his probation officer directs and must submit to physical tests whenever properly directed.

Udager was represented by a small pipe next to a water tank an 8 x 8 ft and a 50 ft transmittal system. The Barry Pringle pleaded guilty to lewd conduct with a minor in the same session of district court. Judge Pather ordered a pre-sentence investigation and set Dec. 10 for sentencing. Pringle was represented by Peter J. Hutchinson. Greg Keller represented the state.

Timothy Shofner pleaded guilty to felony escape and second degree burglary. A pre-sentence investigation was ordered and sentence will be handed down Dec. 10. Prosecutor Greg Keller dismissed charges of escape and grand theft which had also been pending against Shofner. Thomas Morris represented the defendant.
