OF AMERICA

July 29, 1964

I have been asked by Mr. Starkey, chief executive of the Dan Beard Council to state my recent experience with Mr. Guy Collins, Scoutmaster of troop 920, Hamilton, Ohio.

On July 18, while members of our troop were distributing advertisements in Mr. Collins' area, he invited me into the basement of his home and expressed excessive affection toward me by hugging and kissing me and opening my zipper and fondling the area inside. This lasted for one-half hour. I thought about running away but was too nervous and upset.

On one previous occasion on a fishing trip several months previous to my last experience, I had a similar experience. His affection toward me started at Camp Myron Kahn in the summer of 1963, when he kept me up late at night in his tent helping me to pass advancement tests and hugging me. I didn't realize at

PERSONAL AND CONFIDENTIAL
Re: Guy Collins, former
Scoutmaster, Troop 20

Dear Bay:

Thank you very much for your letter of August 7, 1964, received by us today, and the attached confidential record sheet and correspondence from [redacted] and Guy Collins. We have placed this information in our file and have taken steps to have his name deleted from the Troop roster.

The information you have furnished, will enable us to identify Mr. Collins, should he ever again attempt to register in the Scouting program.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. Richard M. Brees
Chairman, Troop Committee
Troop 20, Adams School PTA
Hamilton, Ohio

Dear Scouter:

It is with a great sense of loss that I make this known to the committee:

Effective this date I herewith tender my resignation as Scoutmaster. I find it impossible to continue my responsibilities in this capacity. I believe this move is made in the best interests of the Troop and Scouting. I no longer wish to serve in any capacity.

I wish to personally thank you, the Committee, and all the Scouts in Troop 20 for the excellent assistance you have provided me in the past.

Good luck and good Scouting to all of you.

Sincerely,

Guy Collins
