Dear Roger:

Thank you for the very complete information which you have sent us concerning Timothy J. Backshaw. This will be most helpful to us in refusing registration at a later time.

I hope you will let us now if we can be of any help from our department. We would like for you to tell us the final outcome of any legal action which takes place. This will be most helpful to us in completing our file.

Thanks again for your very complete file.

Dear Roger:

You probably do not want to think about the Timothy Bagshaw case again, but periodically my bring-up file sends this to the top.

I would like any information you have related to the legal situation. If this has come to trial, we would like to know the outcome and any sentencing which may have taken place. This will help to complete our file and close this particular case.

Thanks again for your help. I am sorry that you became so personally involved.

Dear Bill:

Quite some time ago we had correspondence concerning the above named individual. We never heard the final outcome of any legal action which may have taken place.

We would like you to tell us if this case came to trial and if there was a conviction and sentencing. This would strengthen our file and close this case so that we would make sure that we had ample evidence for future refusal of registration attempts.

Thank you for your help.

Dear Bill:

Earlier this year we had communication concerning the above-named individual. This individual had been registered with Troop 361 in State College. It was indicated that he was suspected of child abuse.

We would like to know whether the charges were dropped or whether this came to trial and there was a conviction. This information will be most helpful to us should a registration attempt come from some other part of the country.

Please call us if we should discuss this further.

Dear Bill:

I have written to you on several occasions concerning the above-named individual. We really need to know if he has been convicted of child abuse.

Apparently, in 1984, he was arrested and charged with some sort of sexual abuse. Since that time, we have not heard any information concerning whether or not there was a trial and whether he was found guilty.

This will certainly strengthen our file and enable us to refuse registration at anytime in the future. Without this information, our case is rather weak and we are very concerned that he might move somewhere else and create further problems for scouting.

Please help us if you can to complete this file, so that we may protect the youth of America.

Dear Bill:

I have written on several occasions concerning the above-named individual. I understand that he was arrested and charged with child abuse. We must know whether or not he was convicted and sentenced for this crime. This is very necessary if we are to have a complete file and be able to refuse registration anywhere a registration attempt might originate.

I appreciate that this may be difficult, but there should be some newspaper clippings or court records available which we could put in our file which would give us the outcome of the legal action.

NARRATIVE FOR DICK CAMPBELL FROM
ROGER RAUCH, COUNCIL EXECUTIVE - 6/14/84

Thursday, April 26, 1984

On April 26th [REDACTED], Assistant Scoutmaster for Troop 361 in State College, called me at the Scout office and shared with me a concern that the parents of [REDACTED] were upset and making an accusation that Tim Bagshaw, Scoutmaster of Troop 361, may have committed some kind of sexual acts with their son. The occasions I was told from [REDACTED] who were told by [REDACTED] parents, were:

- (1) Tim Bagshaw invited [REDACTED] on a ski trip for a weekend at the Poconos. They were to stay with relatives of Tim Bagshaw. Parent permission was given. When they arrived they stayed at a motel instead of a relative's home. Supposedly [REDACTED] was approached during that weekend by Tim Bagshaw but nothing happened. [REDACTED] was instructed to tell his parents he had stayed with Tim Bagshaw's relatives, not at a motel. Please note - this was not a Scouting activity.
- (2) In January of 1984 at a camp-out with Troop 361 at the Seven Mountains Scout Camp, along with several other adults, Tim and [REDACTED] were tentmates. Unaware to everyone present, supposedly something happened in their tent. It was a very cold weekend and the adults were split with the younger Scouts.

The information came out when [REDACTED] told a friend who is also a Scout that Tim Bagshaw had approached him. [REDACTED] friend then shared this story with his dad who in turn shared the same story with [REDACTED] dad. Of course this upset the parents of [REDACTED] who in turn called [REDACTED]. Later that evening - Monday, April 23 - at the Scout troop meeting [REDACTED] took [REDACTED] aside and talked to him about the alleged act. [REDACTED] also took Tim Bagshaw aside and talked to him about the same. [REDACTED] after talking to both, felt some concern. [REDACTED] then, over the next few days, called several other parents and had them confidentially talk to their sons to see if anyone else knew anything or were involved. This included [REDACTED] talking to his two sons. After talking to all these parents, only one very minor incident, which happened more than 5 years ago, was uncovered. After feeling the pressure of a possible problem, [REDACTED] called Roger Rauch on the morning of April 26th at the Scout office for help. That very same evening Donald Bailey from State College - our Nittany District Chairman and a member of the executive board, and Roger Rauch went to the home of [REDACTED] to further discuss the potential problem. It was our conclusion at the end of the evening that for the best interest of Troop 361 a troop committee meeting should be called and held as soon as possible and to include the Scoutmaster, Tim Bagshaw. This was scheduled yet that same evening for Monday, April 30th at the home of [REDACTED]. Tim Bagshaw was also advised not to go on the April 27-29, 1984 troop canoe trip and did not.

A United Way Agency

CONF002509

DYKES_I_002487

Monday, April 30, 1984

The troop committee met with about 6 members present, along with Scoutmaster Tim Bagshaw, Stew Koontz (whom Tim invited), several assistant Scoutmasters, Don Bailey, and Roger Rauch. All troop committee members were also parents of Scouts in the troop. At the end of the meeting, which lasted about 2 hours, it was decided that Tim Bagshaw should resign as Scoutmaster because of some bad judgments he had made and that he should consider getting some legal counsel and decide if he should react. Tim Bagshaw resigned as Scoutmaster that evening.

Tuesday, May 1, 1984

The next morning Roger Rauch called the [REDACTED] family and talked to [REDACTED] at which time he informed her that Tim Bagshaw has resigned as Scoutmaster last evening. On the same telephone call [REDACTED] also felt that the Scout council should do more than that and even talk to all other families and run an investigation. I was not sure at that point what additional responsibility we had and indicated I would get back to her. Meanwhile, I called Dick Campbell, our legal counsel, who had me meet with Amos Goodall later that afternoon. Amos got a copy of the law and we reviewed it, deciding we had already acted responsibly and that it was now up to the parents to file charges or take action since they were supposedly the hurt party. A copy of the law was given to Roger Rauch to give to the [REDACTED] family, which he did later that evening.

CONF002510

That evening Don Bailey and Roger Rauch met with the parents of [REDACTED]. We shared with them the information that it was their responsibility to report the matter to Child Welfare. Roger Rauch even offered to place the call for them if they chose to report the accusation. [REDACTED] wanted to report it very much so, but [REDACTED] was not quite sure they should. It was my opinion there that they should get their own legal counsel and decide what to do. We left with the feeling that the [REDACTED] would discuss the matter further and decide exactly what they wanted to do. We never heard from the [REDACTED] again. I assumed they decided not to report. In our conversation with the parents of [REDACTED] we never talked to [REDACTED]. The parents did not want us to. We only met [REDACTED] very briefly as we walked out the door that evening.

Others

Never at any time in those few days did we try to investigate it on any formal basis. We felt it was one accusation from the [REDACTED] family toward Tim Bagshaw. We did accept through the troop committee Tim Bagshaw's resignation as Scoutmaster and recommended that either party should act in their own best interest and that we would be willing to cooperate in any way. We felt this was their responsibility and acted accordingly.

Also, I did advise Tim Bagshaw not to be involved in any form with our Scouting program and/or with any of the Troop 361 members. It was my feeling at that point that he would cooperate with this recommendation. Also at this time the National Office Registration Department was informed to remove Tim Bagshaw's name as Scoutmaster. On the weekend of May 18-20, 1984, Tim Bagshaw then showed up for about half an hour at the Nittany District Camporee in Julian. Many of the Troop 361 members saw Tim there. This, I think, prompted other parents to be very concerned and encouraged many families to come forward unknown to us.

Friday, June 8, 1984

On Friday morning, June 8, Sgt. Madden of the Rockview office of the Pennsylvania State Police called me at the Scout office and informed me that an investigation was under way with Tim Bagshaw and that he would be arrested on Monday, June 11. He also informed me that I was being cited on a summary offense for not reporting a possible child abuse case to the proper authorities and that I would be receiving a citation that would be issued on June 11th.

June 11 and 12, 1984

On the evening of June 11th and on the morning of June 12th all the news media began calling me in reference to the State Police report they had received. Almost without exception each wanted a response from me why I failed to report it, kind of indicating why I was trying to cover something up. I responded to a few of the news media briefly and then tried to call Dick Campbell's office.

Also that same morning I was in touch with our National Office. I contacted Paul Ernst, the National Director of Registration, to report the Tim Bagshaw incident for the confidential list of volunteer Scout leaders. He suggested that I talk to Barclay Bollas in our communications department who in turn transferred me to David Park, an attorney for the Boy Scouts of America. Also during that time John Auman, Pennsylvania Associate Area Director, was consulted. David Park recommended to the council president, Jack Port, and myself that legal counsel be set up immediately and that Jack Port, council president, write a short statement to respond to all news media.

Tuesday afternoon, June 12, being unable to contact Dick Campbell, Jack Port and Roger Rauch met with Tom Torquato, a local attorney in Lewistown who also was in touch with David Park, who helped with the assistance of lining up legal counsel and the following statement for Jack Port:

CONF002512

DYKES_I_002490

"As president of the Juniata Valley Council, Boy Scouts of America, I totally support and stand behind our council executive, Roger Rauch, who we feel has acted responsibly and has done nothing wrong. We are currently working with legal counsel and we plan to vigorously resist any charges made on Roger Rauch."

Jack H. Port, council president, was advised throughout this complete matter.

Roger Rauch's feelings

- (1) I feel I acted responsibly in my job as council executive and should not have been cited.
- (2) I did seek out legal counsel and reacted on their advice.
- (3) I had no contact at any time with children - only adults and parents.
- (4) I did not at any time wilfully not report it. It was my opinion that it was the parents' decision and responsibility. I even offered to call for them and report it if they had wanted me to and offered to cooperate in any way with anyone.
- (5) I did not appreciate being named in the news media in the same breath with the Tim Bagshaw arrest on a $25.00 summary offense. This has really created a very bad and negative image and response on the council, myself, and the Boy Scouts of America.

Former scout leader charged with sexual assault at camp

By SHARI CHRISTOFF
Of The Sentinel

STATE COLLEGE — State Police at Rockview have arrested a former State College Boy Scout leader on sexual assault charges involving two boys in his own troop.

The incidents allegedly took place at the Seven Mountains Boy Scout Camp.

Timothy John Bagshaw, 29, of State College, former assistant leader of Troop No. 361, Ferguson Township, was placed in Centre County Prison Monday in lieu of $15,000 bail.

Police said Bagshaw is charged with 10 counts each of indecent assault, endangering the welfare of children and corruption of the morals of minors. A preliminary hearing is set for June 20.

The alleged incidents occurred Nov. 18 and Dec. 16 -

17, 1983, and Jan. 20 and 21, 1984, police said, but nothing was said of the matter until a little over a month ago.

Police declined to name the youngsters involved in the incidents. A police spokeswoman said the boys were probably State College area residents since they were members of Bagshaw's troop.

Also cited in the matter was Roger Rauch, Director of the Juniata Valley Council of Boy Scouts, Lewistown.

Police have charged Rauch with the summary offense of failure to notify the proper authorities of suspected child abuse.

When contacted at the boy scout headquarters in Lewistown this morning, Rauch said that he did not realize he was obligated by law to report the incident.

He said that about six weeks ago the family of one of the boys made a complaint against Bagshaw.

Rauch explained that at that time Bagshaw was asked to step out of his position as leader until things were 'straightened out' and that the Boy Scout Council did not take either side.

Bagshaw then resigned. "My understanding was that each party could then pursue whatever legal action they wanted to," said Rauch. "I didn't realize that I was obligated to report this but I did offer the family my cooperation."

"I hope one bad apple in a thousand doesn't ruin the whole boy scout idea," Rauch stated.

State Police at Rockview are asking any parents or troop members with further information to please contact them.

Ex-Scout Leader Charged in Assaults

2 Troop Members Allegedly Molested During Campouts

By LAURIE FEDON
Times Staff Writer

A former Boy Scout leader was arrested yesterday for allegedly molesting two members of his State College troop on weekend campouts last winter.

In addition, the executive director of the Juniata Valley Council has been charged with failing to report the suspected abuse to authorities.

Timothy Jon Bagshaw, 29, of 229 S. Sparks St., State College, was arrested by Rockview state police on 10 counts each of indecent assault, endangering the welfare of children and corruption of minors.

A former Huntingdon Borough police officer who was in scouting for 22 years, Mr. Bagshaw had been assistant scout leader for Troop 361 at the time of the alleged offenses. Troop 361, which includes boys ages 11 to 18, meets at Radio Park Elementary School in State College.

Mr. Bagshaw is charged with sexually molesting two 13-year-old boys on separate occasions during troop campouts at Seven Mountains Boy Scout Camp in Potter Township. Each boy was alone with Mr. Bagshaw at the time of the alleged assault.

State police said one boy was allegedly assaulted on Nov. 18 and 19, and again on Dec. 16 and 17. The other was assaulted Jan. 20 and 21, police said.

During interviews with state police, both boys gave similar accounts.

Each boy told state police he shared a tent with Mr. Bagshaw. When Mr. Bagshaw and the boy were inside, Mr. Bagshaw zippered the tent and "locked" it with his boot laces, state police said. Then, Mr. Bagshaw joined the two sleeping bags and began indecently touching the boy, and asked him to reciprocate, according to state police.

Mr. Bagshaw told one of the boys that this type of activity was normal and part of growing up, according to state police.

Huntingdon Borough Police Chief Dan Varner said Mr. Bagshaw was a police officer with his department from 1974 to 1975. Mr. Bagshaw was not hired after his probationary period because the size of the force was reduced, the chief said.

Mr. Bagshaw was released from Centre County Prison on $15,000 bail this morning. His preliminary hearing has been scheduled for June 20.

In connection with the Bagshaw arrest, a citation was filed with District Magistrate Robert May yesterday against Roger W. Rauch, director of the Juniata Valley Council, Boy Scouts of America, in Lewistown.

Mr. Rauch, 39, of Reedsville, is charged with a summary offense of failure to notify the proper authorities of the suspected child abuse.

as required by the Child Protective Services Law. This charge is in connection with the Jan. 20-21 incident allegedly involving Mr. Bagshaw, state police said.

The Child Protective Services Law, enacted in 1975 and amended in 1981, states that any person who, in the course of his employment, comes into contact with children must report suspected child abuse to the proper authorities.

Contacted last night, Mr. Rauch said he was told about one of the alleged assaults and on April 30, he and several parents of boys in the troop talked to Mr. Bagshaw. At that meeting, Mr. Bagshaw resigned from scouting. (Mr. Bagshaw had been assistant troop leader until March, when he was made troop leader.)

"I didn't know I was supposed to contact anyone. I felt it was the parents' responsibility," said Mr. Rauch. "I don't think I was out of order. We acted very responsibly, I thought."

Mr. Rauch said he has not decided how he will respond to the citation and has consulted his attorney.

"I'm concerned that this not get blown out of proportion," said Mr. Rauch. "We're here as a positive organization. Thousands of kids go through it (Boy Scouts) right. Ninety thousand leaders do their jobs right. It's very rare that something like this happens."

Rockview state police were notified of one of the suspected molestations by a representative of Centre County Children and Youth Services on May 27, at which time the investigation began.

State police are continuing their investigation. Additional suspects from Centre and other counties may be involved, they said.

Parents of children in the troop and parents of those who have left the troop are asked to contact state police at 355-7506 if they have further information that might aid in the investigation.

Must Keep Perspective in Scout Case, Leaders Say

By LAURIE FEDON
Times Staff Writer

A National Boy Scout official believes there is no need to overreact to a situation in the College where two Scouts allege they were sexually molested by a former Scout leader.

Barclay Bolas, national news editor for Boys Scouts of America in Dallas, believes the alleged incidents won't hurt the scouting program, and that the organization already has the best possible precautions for protecting Scout leaders.

Meanwhile, two Centre County Scout leaders hope the community will not prejudge the case, and that something positive will be learned from the situation.

Last week, Timothy Jon Bagshaw, 29, of S. Sparks St., State College, was arrested by Rockview state police on 10 counts each of indecent assault, endangering the welfare of children and corruption of minors.

Police charged Mr. Bagshaw with sexually molesting two 13-year-old boys on separate occasions last winter. He is scheduled for a preliminary hearing in Central Court tomorrow at 9:30 a.m.

The one and a quarter million adults enrolled in Boy Scouts each year, eight, 10, are involved in something of this nature," Mr. Bolas.

Mr. Bolas said his organization doesn't plan to make any policy changes as a result of either Mr. Bagshaw's arrest or the citation issued to Juniata Valley Council Executive Director Roger W. Rauch for not reporting the suspected abuse to proper authorities.

Mr. Rauch, who was mailed a citation last week, has 10 days from the time he receives the citation either to plead guilty or request a hearing before District Magistrate Robert May. As of this morning, he had not contacted Mr. May's office.

Pennsylvania's Child Protective Services Law, enacted in 1975 and amended in 1981, states that any person employed in a job where he comes in contact with children must report suspected child abuse to authorities.

On April 30, Mr. Rauch met with Mr. Bagshaw and a group of parents and scout volunteers to discuss one boy's allegations that he had been sexually assaulted by Mr. Bagshaw. At that meeting, Mr. Bagshaw resigned as scoutmaster from Troop 361. He had been assistant scoutmaster at the time of the alleged offenses.

"We feel our policy is solid and that he (Mr. Rauch) took the proper steps and followed our procedures exactly," said Mr. Bolas.

When discussing the alleged assaults, Mr. Bolas said he doesn't know how this type of situation can be avoided. As with all adults who volunteer as scout leaders, Mr. Bagshaw was selected by community members and then checked through the organization's computer for any criminal convictions.

"The problem is that virtually everyone who gets mixed up in a situation like this is a person with an impeccably clean record," said Mr. Bolas.

Looking to the positive, the charges and publicly may re-emphasize the need for parental involvement in scouting, he said.

"Typically, youth groups get one or two parents who volunteer, and the rest — whether the group is the Boy Scouts, the YMCA or the Little League — consider it a babysitting service."

The more parents become active, the better scouting will be, agrees Stewart Koontz, Julian scoutmaster and liaison between Troop 361 and the council.

"I know scoutmasters who spend more time with boys than the boys' parents do," said Mr. Koontz. "Some drop off their kids for the weekend and think we're babysitters."

Mr. Koontz, who says he has total belief in Mr. Bagshaw's innocence, posted $15,000 bail to release him from Centre County Prison. "For me, personally, I feel it is better to have quality in friends than quantity. Tim is one of those I believe him, trust him, have total respect for him. I don't place limits on friendship."

"It's a tough situation for Tim, the boys, their parents," said Mr. Koontz. "I hope people come out of this learning something and are better for it. Once it is over, I hope they put it behind them and get on with their lives."

Although he doesn't believe the charges filed against the former scout leader will hurt the Boy Scout organization, [redacted] of Troop 361 does think that procedures should be set up to deal with similar situations in the future.

"Most parents involved feel the troop and the kinds of things that go on in scouting are very good for their sons, that this is an aberration, if the allegations are true," said Mr. [redacted] father of twins in Troop 361 and troop scoutmaster during the time the alleged assaults took place.

"A lot of this fell on my shoulders and it would have been helpful to have had more guidance," he said. "There are no procedures within Boy Scouts for dealing with this situation."

...the scouting teaches boys to be prepared for first-aid emergencies and the like, Mr. [redacted] suggested that perhaps scouts should also be made aware of the dangers of adults who may try to take advantage of them.

"It's a delicate situation," said Mr. [redacted]. "It is a terrible thing (for the children) if the allegations are true.
